PRANCE'S INTENTIONS.

GENIC ANXIETY.

Genoa, April 28. Uncertainty again descended on conference curicies in the afternoon when M. Barthou announced his intention to go to Paris to confer with M. Poincare and return to Genos on May 3.

Rumours arising from this are not allayed by Barthou's explanat on that the French delegation will carry on in the interim, thus not interrupting the con'erence

At a subsequent meeting of the sub-committee, Mr. jat the sources of supply and distribution. Lloyd George impressed upon M. Barthou the inconvenience of absenting himself at the present juncture. M. Barthou later announced that he had decided to remain, at least for the present.

BUSSIAN AFFAIRS.

LOXDON, April 28. The sub-commission on Russian affairs at Genes has concluded its discussions. CHILDREN'S CORNER.

My dear Children.

Monday is the first of Here we to not take very much notice of it, but at home, in England, in many villages the Queen of May will be crowned and everyone will dance round the Maypole. There u ed to be processions too with Morris dancers and jesters and people riding hobby horses, but all these cle customs have died out in most places.

Your loving, PETER PAN.

THE MAY QUEEN.

Far up in the north of Scotland in a place called Banff there lived family of three boys and one girl Malcolm, the eldest, who was nine and a half, went to school, but the others all had lessons at home with a gover- the hat. ness, except Douglas who was only

Easter and was just helping to pack they all thought that it was exactly up his things to go back to school right for a May Queen.
when the news came that his school- It was bedtime before master was ill and that the boys were to have longer holidays. So that was a mormur so as to be ready for the how it was that, at the end of April, Malcolm was still at home.

On the last day of April they were all in the nursery after tea. It was a wet day and they were wondering what game they would play when Malcolm and Alan were fast asleep Malcolm said, "Do you know that and whispered to them laughingly, they got in and when she heard what to-morrow is the first of May?"

second boy, "Don't imagine that you are the only one who knows anything because you go to school." "Now don't quarrel boys," put in Kathleen, who was generally the peacemaker." What about the first of May Malcolm? That does not help us to think of a game." "Oh yes, it does," Malcolm answered, "I have an idea. Have you heard of a May Queen and a May Donglas as he was so little and it pageant ? " "Yes," Kathleen, said, "Mother other day about a girl who was going to be May Queen and she was so afraid that she was not going to wake up in time "I remember it," broke in Alan,

She kept on saying over and over again, "Call me early Mother dear, For I'm to be Queen of the May Mother, I'm to be Queen of the May I got rather tired of it and wished that she would harry up and get it

"Well anyway," said Malcolm laughing, " I don't think it would be B bad game to play. Kathleen of course will have to be the queen, and you are very lucky to have the best a gust of wind blew the crown you are very lucky to have the cest up into the air. Alan tried to eatch For on this day it is but right part," he added turning to her, up into the air. Alan tried to eatch For on this day it is but right That, on our small Queen's golden "Alan and Douglas and I can ride on hobby horses and we must all get up early and crown the Queen and then parade round. If there were some more of us we could have Robin Hood and Maid Marion and Morris dancers but we must make the most of what we have." The others all sgreed that this would be fun and then they began to think how they would dress up and to hunt for sticks for their hobby

"HI am a Queen I cught to have a crown Malcolm," said Kathleen.

"Yes of course," Malcolm answered, But a May Queen only has a crown

"Not even a silver paper one?" asked Kathleen in rather a disappoint that it ought to be made of roses. believ. I saw that in a picture somewhere. But anyway there are no roses out in our garden yet. It is much too early and I am airaid that there are not any flowers at a'l."

At this they roon jumped up and, without anyone hearing them, dressed quickly in different coloured tunics and knickers, with ribbons and sashes tied crosswise round them, and crept downstairs and out of doors, Kathleen with her rose wreath held tightly in her hand. She had put on her best white muslin dress and had not fied up her hair at all. They did not wake

CHURCH NOTES.

In to-morrow's Collect we pray God to he'p us to follow the example of Jesus Christ when he was a Man on earth, and one of His outstanding characteristics was forgiveness.

St. Peter knows how bard this is going to be for us; even when we are justly criticized or rebuked we find it difficult not to resent it, but the Epistle tells us that we must also forgive those who deliberately harm us. We must constantly ke-p in remembrance the example of with Ladies' only (No. 1373-c o Jesus-"to err is human, to forgive divine"-how else for us human being could it be possible? Remembering with pratitude, and love Christ's V at Amoy. Raply Box 1372 c/o Atonoment, it will at last become a joyful act of reparation, done for His sake Who pleads constantly for .. us "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do."

-Acd is the doty hard to do ! No one dear Lord, ha h done to me Such wrong as I have done to Tiee.

The Gasnel is part of 'Our Lord's TOO LET .- FURNISHED FLAT. Parable of the Good Shepherd, reminding us that He takes care of us in lividually, knowing the weaknesses. physical and spiritual of each one of us, loving us so much that to save us He gives His own life. There are no dangers for His sheep to pass which He Himself has not known; He has overcome Death, the wol which but for Him would have scattered the sheep-He knows the pitialls and the rocky places, and when through our ignorance or wilfulness we have straved away from His keeping-He will search until He finds us, calling us by name as He called Peter. Then, forgetting our sin in His joyful discovery, He will tenderly lift us in His arms and carry us to safety once more.

> Monday is the feast of St. Philip and St. James. St. Philip had the privilege of being the first of our Lord's disciples. Jesus had talked with Aidrew and Peter, but afterwards they returned to their bomes and were not called to discipleship till a year later after St. John the Baptist was cast into prison. After the Ascension Philip preached the Gospel in Upper Asia and suffered marivrdom in Hierapolis, a stronghold of idelativ where the people worshipped a serpent. In many of his travels his sister Marianne was with him at the end when his persecutors hung him to s-piller, and after death it was she and Bartholomew who tenderly buried

St. James the less is generally supposed to be the son of St Joseph, Christ's Foster Father. St. Jerome tells us that James, having drunk of the Cup at the Last Supper, swore he would (at no more bread until he saw Christ risen from the dead. Jesus appeared to James and commanded a: bread to be set before him, and having blessed it gave it to him, saying, Est thy bread my brother, for the Son of Man is truly risen from among them that sleep. "

Because of James' close relationship-foster-brother-be was chosen to be Bishop of Jerusalem. It was to St. J mes that St. Paul made his address after "his Conversion, and St. Peter after his miraculous escape from prison, said, "Go show these things unto James and to the brethren." He was thrown down from a pinnacle of the Temple, stoned and then beaten to death with a club, praying all the while for his murderers. The Epistle of St. James was written shortly before his martrydom which took place twenty-four years after Christ's As-

A legend says that He was so like Jesus in face and deportment that because of this resemblance the kiss of Judes was necessary so that the soldiers might know the Victim they had come to take.

Last Sunday, being St. George's Day, was kept by special memorials at the Cathedral and by a Scout Service at St. Peter's Church.

Next Saturday is the semiversity of the accession of King George V and is appointed in our Prayer Book as a day for a special service, three forms being provided, one being a special Collect, Epistle and Gospel for insertion in the Holy Communion Service

This service is the only survivor of four old State Services, the others being previously held on the Fifth of November, the Thirtieth of January and the Twenty-ninth of May.

November 5th, was appointed in 1605 in connection, with the frustration, of the Gunpowder Plot and in 1689 was enlarged by the fact that William III lended at Brixham on Jaluary 30th, was set apart as 1 day of prayer and fasting in commemoration of the max yrdom of Charles the First; this was altered by the authority of James the Second. Msy 2nd was appointed in 1662 as the day of 'His Majesty's Birth and appy return to his Kngdome."

ANNUAL MEETING HELD.

Members of the Institution of Engineers and Shipbeilders of Hongkong held their annual meeting last night, Mr. J. Reid presiding over a large attendance of members.

The Committee's report for the year showed that the membership now grood at 464. During the year 38 members resigned and 134 new members were elected. The Institution greatly regretted to have lost by death: Mr. W. Davison (Honglong and Whampon Dock), Mr. A. Edwards (A.P.C.). D M. Mackay (Taikoo Dock) and Mr. C. G. Price ('s.s. Hedrangea"). Thinks to the generosity, of many members considemble additions had been made to the fiction library, which contained I der books out af a total in the whole library of 1,828.

Proposing the adoption of the report and accounts, the chairman remarked upon the very satisfactory resint of the vear's working of the Institution: the financial position was satisfactory and there had been a gratifying increase in membership. Thanks to the hard work of Mr. W. J. Stokes, the library was now one of the Institution's most important assets. The Chairman mentioned that two papers had been read during the year, one by Mr. F. Dubeis on . "Autogenous Welling the Oxy Acetylene Process?

other Stokes on "Refrigeration and Ice Making." This was one side of the Institute's life which should not be lost sight of and he hoped that during the present year more papers on engineering, ship building and other interesting subjects would be given. The Chairman thanked Mr. McCubbin for the great interest he had taken in the billiard tables and he also thanked the hardworking members of the Committee, especially mentioning the names of Mr. S. Baker, the Hou. Secrets:

and Mr. R. Hunter. On the Chairman's motion it was decided that a balance of £205 odd standing to the Institution's credit should be contributed equally to the St. Dunstan's Home and Earl Haig's Fund. The Chairman mentioned that last year they had contributed a similar amount to these two institutions.

The following office-bearers were elected for the ensuing year: -- a President : Mr. G. J. Harman. Vice-Presidents: Mesers, S. Baker and W. Russelie Hon. Secretary : Mr. W. E. Douglas Hon. Treasurer: Mr. A. Leach. Hon. Librarian: Mr. W. J. Stokes Anditors: Messrs. Liwe, Bingham and Matthews

JUVENILE SOCIETY SPORTS.

The Juvenile Society holds its ninth annual athletic sports meeting at the Race course this afternoon under the patronage of Senhor A. L. Cer veira d'Albuquerque e Castro, Consul General for Portugal, and Bishop D.

The meeting is arranged for the children of the Portuguese community of Hongkong but there will be several events open to adults, including ladies' nomination race.

There are twenty events on the programme, and the entries have beer very encouraging, no fewer than 122 children ranging from 4 to 1 years of age have sent in their names:

The most interesting events will be the one and two miles bicycle races, the half mile flat race for boys under 16 years of age, the 440 yards flat race: for the "Matomouro" challenge cup the team race and the tug of war, both between teams representing Hongkong against Kowloon. Keen rivalry the oroup and whooping cough of the have existed in these events each whole family. For sale by all Chemists wear, and exciting tuesles are assured. and Storekeepers

Mr. Churchill, roplying to questions by Mr. T. Griffiths (Pontypool) and Mr. C. Edwards (Becwelty) relating to the mui tsai system in Hongkong, said :- The House will recollect that I asked hon, members to postpone their questions on this subject in order that I might communicate with the Governor of Hongkong The recent occurrences in the Colony have unfortunately prevented either the Governor or myself from dealing with this matter as expeditiously as I had hoped, but I have now received a telegram from the Governor stating that his Government in consultation with the societies for the protection and for the abolition ci mui-tsai, will draw up a scheme for the abulition of the system as es possible. (Hear, hear.) Both the Government and the societies point take some little time. I have directed the issue without delay of a proclamation making it clear to employers and employed that "the: status of mui-leai as understood in recognised in Hongkorg, and. particular, that no compulsion of

In the House of Commons on March 28. Lieut.-Commander Kenworthy (Hull, Central), asked what was the number of musi tsas in the Colony of Hongkong, including British territory on the mainland, and what steps were being taken to prevent their removal to other parts of China before the decision to abolish this form of slavery was put into force.

It has been pointed out to me by the Government and the Societies that the issue of this proclamation will involve some risks of exposing a number of girls to the wiles unscrupulous persons and that before girls are encouraged to leave their employers it would be very desirable their future. It is indeed obvinumbers involved that it will be beyond should any large proportion desire to leave their present homes immediately. I have therefore instructed the determined to effect the abolition of

Mr. E. Wood, Under Secretary for the Colonies, replied:-The number is between 8,000 and, 9,000. The Secretary for the Colonies has instructed the Governor to elaborate detailed arrangements necessary for carrying into effect the new policy in consultation with the societies concerned. The Governor will no doubt consider what steps can best be taken to prevent mui isai from being removed from the Colony against their own wishes and interests. Six J. D. Rees (Nottingbam, E.): Since the population of Hongkong is almost entirely Chinese, is it not possible to forbid the emigration of any members of that population?

Mr. Wood: There is no question of forbidding the volunary emigration of the Chinese population. What that question is directed to is a real possible evil which it is extremely desirable to prevent. Sir J. D. Rees; Since concubinage is regarded in the East as a higher status than prostitution, is there not grave danger that this step will prec pitate these people from the higher to the lower plane? Mr. Wood: Obviously the Governor, who is conversant with there stages of civilisation, will have all the relevant facts in his mind in dealing with the problem. Mr. Wood added that the Colonisi Secretary had instructed the Governor to take all possible steps in conjunction with the voluntary societies to meet risks to which mai tsai girls would be exposed by the issue of the proclamation.

CHURCH NOTES.

These three forms were dropped because of a growing feeling against them, but Accession Day is well retained as an opportunity for national celebration of loyalty by the National Church: the forms used have the authority of the Convocations and Crown, although they are not enjoined by any Act of Parliament.

Sir Edward Clarke has recently raised a discussion regarding the use of the Apocryphal books of the Bible, he objecting strongly to their use in the Church services. In spite of all that he and his friends can say there is no doubt that the Church includes them in the Canon of Hely Scripture (see Thirtynine Arm les) and that not only is it binding on Churchman to treat them as such, but no Bible is complete which does not include them.

Those who are not familiar with these books would do well to read

The Stinitual Healing Fellowship, recently founded in England has been baring weekly services in London at. the Chapel of the Ascension. The crowds that they have drawn have proved that the arcommodation was too small and a larger Church is now being chosen. Interest in the healing work of the Church seems to be increasing rapidly at home.

Dr. Foakes Jacks n has again given us a most readable history. this ruebeing of the Mediaeval Church, under the title of "An Introduction to the Elistory of Christianity." There are some dall pages of dates, as there apparently must be in all histories: but on the whole the breezy characteristics of the author assert themselves so as to make pleasant reading of solid staff.

The Bishop of Rockhampton has given us a small book in which he tries to demonstrate what the position of the lay man should be with regard to Church matters: the title is, "The Voice of the Layman and the Church of the Future."

In connection with the modern development of Parochial Church Councils, and indeed the development of lay control everywhere, this book should prove of value.

A notable memorial relating to the existence, of parties in the Church has been presented to the Archbishop of Canterbury. The senders are men of various shades of thoughts in the Anglican Church, and they suggest a Commission to seek for a basis of doctrinal agreement within the Church, The memorialists say that the only-adequate safeguard of the Church lies in securing geniune unity of belief.

The question, of course, is a very difficult one for the Primate, and he has sent a very long reply, which expresses approval of the object of the memorial, but speaks of the difficulty of dealing with it, and asks for further information. He says at the outset "the subject matter of the letter is such as to call imperatively for the counsel of our best thinkers. That counsel, as you already to some extent know, I have taken, and what I tow write to you is the outcome of my own subsequent thought and preyer."

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF.

If you want a clear head and good digestion you must not let your bowels become clogged with poisonous wate from the body, as is always the case when you become constipated. Proper food, an abundance of water and plenty of outdoor exercise should keep your bowels regular. When that fails you should take Chamberlain's Tableta. They cause a gentle movement of the bowels and are easy and pleasant to take.
